Request to get on Sept 13 Selectboard Agenda

Here is our proposal to the selectmen!

Fairhaven TV is planning to host a second short film screening with Fairhaven filmmaker Alyssa Botelho in the Town Hall auditorium on October 1st at 7pm. This free event would be modeled after the first, a screening of Alyssa's college film, "Junkie", in January of 2020.

As Alyssa is a graduate of the Fairhaven High School Media Production program, she wishes to give the community a first look at her latest project, "To Dust All Return", which has been submitted to film festivals worldwide. A great way to kick off the spooky Halloween season, it's a 9 minute piece set in the early 1700s with themes of witchcraft.

To ensure a safe event, we are proposing capping the audience at 100 attendants and enforcing the mask mandate.

Because this screening format has proven itself to be a great evening of community connection, recognition of the fairhaven high school media production program, and a celebration of the arts, we kindly ask the selectboard for their approval.

Thank you!

Hi Vicki,

We just had a staff meeting and decided to go ahead with the Fairhaven TV sponsorship of the movie screening on October 1st. Because of the COVID rules and such, we'd like to get on the Sept 13th selectboard agenda to explain our plans and request approval. It'll most likely be me zooming in, but Derek may attend too if he's available.

Thank you!

Hello Select Board,

Message:

Dear Members of the Fairhaven Select Board,

I am writing to submit my name for consideration to fill the current vacancy on the Historical Commission.

My husband and I first bought property in Fairhaven in 2008. The 18th century house in Poverty Point as a summer home and weekend retreat. In 2014 we decided that we wanted to move here permanently and began the house hunt for a home that would function well for us. We were thrilled to purchase #5 Fort Street and haven't regretted that decision since (except for the summer of Pokemon!).

For seven years I have looked for opportunities to get involved in this community for I believe it is important to contribute. I have attached my CV that includes a list of organizations that I have been involved in over the years. I would very much like to lend my time and experience to the Fairhaven Historical Commission.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have questions or if I can provide more information.

Respectfully,
Natalie A. Mello

Town of Fairhaven Announces “Belonging Committee” to Promote Diversity, Equity and Inclusion

August 26, 2021 - A new “Belonging Committee” to support Fairhaven’s efforts to become a welcoming town that recognizes diversity, pursues racial equity, and fosters inclusion has been announced and is recruiting members.

The Belonging Committee will strive to identify and promote activities designed to further efforts of the core values of diversity, Equity and Inclusion, and to advocate for the human and civil rights of all. To ensure clarity for all, the committee will use the following definitions:

Diversity includes all the ways in which people differ, encompassing the different characteristics that make one individual or group different from another. While diversity is often used in reference to race, ethnicity, and gender, we embrace a broader definition of diversity that also includes age, national origin, religion, disability, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, education, marital status, language, and physical appearance. Our definition also includes diversity of thought: ideas, perspectives, and values. We also recognize that individuals affiliate with multiple identities.

Equity is the fair treatment, access, opportunity, and advancement for all people, while at the same time striving to identify and eliminate barriers that have prevented the full participation of some groups. Improving equity involves increasing justice and fairness within the procedures and processes of institutions or systems, as well as in their distribution of resources. Tackling equity issues requires an understanding of the root causes of outcome disparities within our society.

Inclusion is the act of creating environments in which any individual or group can be and feel welcomed, respected, supported, and valued to fully participate. An inclusive and welcoming climate embraces differences and offers respect in words and actions for all people. It’s important to note that while an inclusive group is by definition diverse, a diverse group isn’t always inclusive. Increasingly, recognition of unconscious or ‘implicit bias’ helps organizations to be deliberate about addressing issues of inclusivity.

The Committee will provide guidance to local governing bodies, municipal organizations, businesses, and residents on diversity-related issues, discourage prejudices and discrimination, and encourage unity in our community.

The first meeting of the committee will be held after the Select Board appoints the members. Agenda items will include the election of 7 voting members – ideally one from each precinct. The chair will be exempt from the precinct count and the school, Select Board, police and fire departments will have advisory seats. All are welcomed to join an open meeting that will be held on the second Wednesday of each month at 6:30 pm. Please submit your letters of interest to the Select Board at selectboard@fairhaven-ma.gov by 4:00 pm. on Thursday, September 9, 2021

I'm submitting this letter to express my interest in being a member of the belonging committee. It was unclear as to whether I need to submit this letter or if the creation of the committee serves as enough.

However in the event I do need to submit please accept this letter for consideration.

Thank you.

Letter of interest in the new Belonging Committee of Fairhaven

I moved to Fairhaven from Dartmouth in 2013 and live at 25 Hill st Fairhaven precinct 6 I believe. I am retired age 71 and spend time here and in Florida. I happened to find out about this committee in Beth David's little miracle. I love the idea and the mission statement as well as the definitions. If I can be of use to the committee I feel this is something I would like to get behind and help where I can. Thanks for considering me.

Sincerely Greg Weider

Hello Select Board;

This is to express my interest in joining your new Belonging Committee.

I'm a 69 year old retired West Island resident, and I have time to devote to causes I believe in. I understand the inequities that some citizens may face in their workplace and living situations, and many people have issues with inclusion for a lot of different reasons.

The teachings of Dr. Martin Luther King can be very relevant to today's situation, as the racial inequalities were first addressed in the 60s; elements of the past can be applied to today's situations. I remember following the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

My career has been marketing work, and all our best plans and programs stemmed from effective fact finding vs. opinions and generalizations. As an example of my interest, I would commit to working with the committee to develop a list of pertinent equity type questions for a statistically significant 250 people who represent problem areas to focus on.

Also, as a conservative catholic, I could possibly bring some diversity to the diversity committee!

I look forward to any possible next steps, thank you for your consideration.

Hello Select Board,

Diane Hahn ([REDACTED]) has sent you a message via your contact form (<https://www.fairhaven-ma.gov/user/49/contact>) at Fairhaven MA.

If you don't want to receive such e-mails, you can change your settings at <https://www.fairhaven-ma.gov/user/49/edit>.

Message:

Board Members, I am writing to request a position on the Belonging Committee. I am currently serving on the Commission on Disabilities, I am one of the co-founders of Fairhaven's Got Pride and I've been very active in town government as a town meeting member for 15 years. I am committed to the values held by this newly established committee and would appreciate the opportunity to serve on it. Thank you, Diane Hahn

To the Esteemed Select Board Members,

I want to express my full enthusiasm and appreciation for Fairhaven's decision to create the Belonging Committee. The stated goals of this committee align directly with what I feel my own personal purpose to be, and I am eager to contribute to this cause.

My name is Kylie Bateman. I'm a business professional, the parent of two Wood School Scholars, and, as I've realized in just the last few years, a transgender woman. My path has at times been challenging, but I recognize that I've also only come as far as I have because I was fortunate enough to find community; people who offered strength and affirmation that could overwhelm my own fear and doubt.

In my daily life I manage a furniture store, and for the last 20 years I've held every position a person can in restaurants and retail. I continue to work with and help all manner of people as my coworkers, customers and employees. Creating opportunity, resolving conflict, and providing motivation and encouragement basically comprises much of my professional efforts, but along with that I also create and provide extensive data analysis, and in my spare time I've been lucky enough to work with event planning and coordination for a small convention.

I hope to be part of the important work we can all do for our neighbors, children and friends, to build those communities here at home. I believe we all have the capability and responsibility to lift each other, to counteract the social, structural and economic weights that pull at those that are already vulnerable.

There's a whole lot of good will in Fairhaven, but we have a lot of work to do as well. The Belonging Committee will help transform a lot of that individual positivity into focused, powerful action. I would be proud to commit my technical, social and personal talents and effort, and I'm thankful for your time and consideration.

Warmly,
Kylie Bateman

Rating Action

S&P Global Ratings assigned its 'AA+' rating and stable outlook to Fairhaven, Mass.' roughly $5.01 million series 2021 general obligation (GO) refunding bonds and affirmed its 'AA+' rating, with a stable outlook, on the town's existing GO debt.

Fairhaven's full-faith-and-credit pledge, subject to Proposition 2 1/2 limitations, secures the series 2021 bonds and GO debt outstanding. Despite limitations imposed by the commonwealth's levy-limit law, we did not make a rating distinction between the limited- and unlimited-tax GO pledges due to the town's operating flexibility under the levy limit. We rate the limited-tax GO debt on par with our view of Fairhaven's general creditworthiness because the ad valorem tax is not derived from a measurably narrower property tax base and there are no resource fungibility limitations, supporting our view of its overall ability and willingness to pay debt service.

Officials plan to use series 2021 bond proceeds to refund series 2013 GO bonds for present value savings.

Credit overview

The rating reflects our view of the town's very strong budgetary flexibility, supported by consistently positive financial operations and good financial-management policies and practices under our Financial Management Assessment (FMA) methodology. In our opinion, Fairhaven's stable local economy, with access to the Providence metropolitan statistical area (MSA), and manageable debt-and-pension liabilities further support the rating; we, however, expect retirement costs will likely continue to increase. Therefore, we think the rating outlook will likely remain stable during the next two years because we expect management will likely maintain conservative budgeting assumptions and make necessary financial adjustments to maintain very strong reserves while managing long-term liabilities.

The rating reflects our view of the town's:

- Adequate economy, with access to a broad and diverse MSA, yet high Bristol County unemployment exceeding 10%;
- Strong financial management, with good financial policies and practices under our FMA methodology;
- Strong budgetary performance, with operating surpluses in the general fund and at the total governmental fund level in fiscal 2020;

- Very strong budgetary flexibility, with available fund balance in fiscal 2020 at 22% of operating expenditures;
- Very strong liquidity, with total government available cash at 38.6% of total governmental fund expenditures and 19.6x governmental debt service, and access to external liquidity we consider strong;
- Very strong debt-and-contingent-liability profile, with debt service carrying charges at 2% of expenditures and net direct debt that is 21% of total governmental fund revenue, as well as low overall net debt at less than 3% of market value, but a large pension and other postemployment benefits (OPEB) obligation; and
- Strong institutional framework score.

Environmental, social, and governance (ESG) factors

Although rising sea levels pose a long-term risk for Fairhaven that elevates environmental risks, we think management will likely continue to plan and implement resiliency efforts to help reduce potential effects on the town. As part of the commonwealth's municipal vulnerability preparedness program, Fairhaven has received grants following the evaluation of the effect of climate change on its highest at-risk assets; management, however, has implemented action plans to mitigate these risks. Fairhaven is also conducting a feasibility study with neighboring New Bedford to analyze the effect of climate change on the town's Union wharf, which is partially rebuilt. Fairhaven has also allowed for more mixed-use development in parts of the town with higher elevation. We posit governance and social risks relative to Fairhaven's economy, management, financial measures, and debt-and-liability profile are all in-line with our view of the sector standard. The town also maintains various cybersecurity protections and plans.

Stable Outlook

Upside scenario

We could raise the rating if underlying economic indicators were to grow to levels we consider commensurate with higher-rated peers while management maintains very strong reserves and manages long-term liabilities.

Downside scenario

We could lower the rating if reserves were to weaken materially due to negative financial operations or if increasing retirement costs were to pressure the budget.

Credit Opinion

Adequate economy

We consider Fairhaven's economy adequate. The town, with a population estimate of 16,119, is in Bristol County in the Providence-Warwick MSA, which we consider broad and diverse. Projected per capita effective buying income is 106.1% of the national level and per capita market value is $146,803. Overall, market value has grown by 1.6% during the past year to $2.4 billion in fiscal 2021. County unemployment was 10.2% in 2020 due primarily to COVID-19 and government-related shutdowns, which we consider high and a negative credit factor. However, we do not expect unemployment to remain a long-term trend as the regional economy recovers.

Fairhaven and its immediate neighbor New Bedford share a harbor, which has historically led to intertwined economies. Fairhaven has generally provided support services in the way of ship repair to the fishing fleet stationed on New Bedford's side of the harbor. While residents of the primarily residential community commute into Providence and throughout the broader MSA, Fairhaven is home to a growing health-care industry and golf-equipment-manufacturer Titleist's world headquarters. There is no taxpayer concentration with the 10 leading taxpayers accounting for 5.7% of assessed value.

We understand COVID-19 has not caused major local economic disruptions for Fairhaven because all major businesses have remained open and tax collections remain strong. We understand that the town's harbor and shipyard have remained active throughout COVID-19 and that its real estate market continues to thrive with houses selling for record prices. In addition, several businesses and employers, such as South Coast Hospital, continue to expand, leading to further commercial-sector growth. We also understand developers have revamped an old Sears location that closed prior to COVID-19.

While we think the town's economy will likely remain stable, especially because we think economic recovery will likely continue to accelerate and the risk of recession will likely lessen, we posit the lingering effects of COVID-19, including elevated commonwealth and regional unemployment, could potentially lead to slower-than-expected economic growth. (For more information on COVID-19's effect on the U.S. public finance sector, see the articles, titled "Economic Outlook U.S. Q3 2021: Sun, Sun, Sun, Here It Comes," published June 24, 2021; and "Credit Conditions North America Q3 2021: Looking Ahead, It's Looking Up," published June 29, 2021, on RatingsDirect.)

Strong management

We view the town's financial management as strong, with good financial policies and practices under our FMA methodology, indicating that financial practices exist in most areas but that governance officials might not formalize or regularly monitor all of them.

Management undertakes a number of long-term planning exercises outside the scope of our FMA methodology that are important because they factor into short-term budgetary decision-making and financial planning. The town's master plan is in its second iteration, guiding planning through 2040. Management also recognizes the town could be susceptible to climate change, particularly through sea-level rise; therefore, it works with an outside consultant to develop a hazard-mitigation plan.

Strengths include management's strong revenue and expenditure assumptions in the budgeting process. Management has worked to reduce annual budgetary variances; consequently, it has eliminated the use of reserve appropriations in the budget. Management formally reports monthly to the board and town manager on budget-to-actual performance. The town's long-term financial plan includes five years of revenue projections but lacks formal five-year expenditure projections, which management conducts periodically.

Fairhaven annually updates the capital investment plan (CIP), which includes projects and revenue sources for five years. The CIP's weighted criteria result in a score management uses to prioritize projects. The CIP development process includes debt service and maturity guidelines, coupled with the town's debt-management policy that outlines debt types it could issue, as well as authorization procedures. The formal investment-management policy outlines caretaking-and-reporting requirements, coupled with formally adopting commonwealth debt limitations; management makes quarterly investment reports to the town board. A reserve policy requires Fairhaven maintain a balance of 3%-5% in free cash, as defined by commonwealth law, as well as a stabilization reserve at 5%-7% of general fund expenditures.

Strong budgetary performance

Fairhaven's budgetary performance is strong, in our opinion. The town had operating surpluses at 2.3% of expenditures in the general fund and 1.9% across all governmental funds in fiscal 2020.

For analytical consistency, we adjusted budgetary performance to account for recurring transfers into and from the general fund. The town has posted strong budgetary performance in each of the past three fiscal years.

Management attributes fiscal 2020 positive general fund results to higher-than-budgeted revenue, including charges for services and property and excise taxes. The town also realized expenditure savings because it scaled back operations during government shutdowns and budgeted conservatively; this led to savings in various departments, such as recreation, general government, and public safety. For fiscal 2021, officials estimate ending with another general fund surplus. Management indicates revenue was about $1.3 million ahead of the budget, coupled with lower-than-expected costs, including savings in public works, highway department, schools, and other areas of the budget. In fiscal 2020, property taxes accounted for approximately 60% of general fund revenue, followed by intergovernmental aid at 25%.

The fiscal 2022, $53.9 million budget is a 2.3% increase over fiscal 2021, including a $285,000 fund-balance appropriation. We understand there are no major changes in the fiscal 2022 budget with most departments maintaining flat or decreasing expenditures. The town also expects increased revenue from a new marijuana retail facility and a 3% community impact fee. The town also expects a total of $1.6 million in American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 funds and $3.1 million from the county's allocation. We understand Fairhaven could use some funds to help pay for sewer-treatment-plant upgrades and water and broadband infrastructure; however, it has not made any final decisions at this time. Therefore, due to the town's estimated fiscal 2021 surplus and history of maintaining balanced operations, we expect budgetary performance will likely remain strong.

Very strong budgetary flexibility

Fairhaven's budgetary flexibility is very strong, in our view, with available fund balance in fiscal 2020 at 22% of operating expenditures, or $11.2 million.

Fairhaven has maintained available fund balance at more than 20% of expenditures during each of the past three fiscal years. While total reserves have consistently improved during the past few fiscal years, the town moved some assigned, unassigned fund balance into committed funds in fiscal 2020, which it could only use through a town meeting vote, if warranted. Nonetheless, we expect budgetary flexibility will likely remain very strong.

Very strong liquidity

In our opinion, Fairhaven's liquidity is very strong, with total government available cash at 38.6% of total governmental fund expenditures and 19.6x governmental debt service in fiscal 2020. In our view, the town has strong access to external liquidity if necessary.

Fairhaven has maintained very strong cash during the past three fiscal years, and liquidity should remain very strong because there is no expectation of significant cash deterioration. The town also maintains strong access to external liquidity by frequently issuing debt for capital projects. In addition, we note investments are not aggressive. It does not currently have variable-rate or direct-purchase debt, reducing its exposure to contingent-liquidity risks.

Very strong debt-and-contingent-liability profile

In our view, Fairhaven's debt-and-contingent-liability profile is very strong. Total governmental fund debt service is 2% of total governmental fund expenditures, and net direct debt is 21% of total governmental fund revenue. Overall net debt is low at 0.5% of market value, which is, in our view, a positive credit factor.

With this issuance, the town will have about $18.6 million in total direct debt. Officials currently plan to issue about $5.7 million in additional debt during the next two years to three years for water-and-sewer projects. We understand the town could undertake a large sewer project and a significant public-safety-building project beyond the three-year period, which would most likely require additional bonding.

Pension and OPEB highlights:

- In our opinion, Fairhaven's large pension and OPEB obligation and increasing retirement costs are a credit weakness; however, they have not had a negative effect on budgetary results or reserves.
- While the pension plan uses actuarially determined contributions, we think some assumptions could result in contribution escalation and volatility.
- Fairhaven prefunds OPEB obligations, which we consider positive; it has a formal funding policy--However, we expect liabilities and costs will likely increase.

As of June 30, 2020, the town participates in:

- Fairhaven Contributory Retirement System, which was 78.2% funded, with a net pension liability of $19 million; and
- Fairhaven's defined-benefit health-care plan that provides retiree health care until death, which was 2.64% funded, with an OPEB liability of about $37.9 million.

Fairhaven's combined required pension and actual OPEB contribution totaled 9.4% of total governmental fund expenditures in fiscal 2020: 5.7% represented required contributions to pension obligations and 3.7% represented OPEB payments. The town made its full annual required pension contribution in fiscal 2020.

The retirement system plan maintains a closed-amortization schedule of 14 years and a 7.15% discount. We think this elevated discount could lead to contribution increases and potential liability increases if the plan does not achieve targeted investment returns. In addition, the plan also maintains a payroll-growth assumption of 4.25%, which we think could also lead to faster-than-expected cost increases if Fairhaven does not consistently meet the target.

The town has established an OPEB trust fund with a $1 million balance as of fiscal 2020. Fairhaven plans to add $200,000 to the OPEB fund in fiscal 2022 and $350,000 in fiscal 2023; it plans to increase that contribution by, at least, $50,000 annually afterward.

Strong institutional framework

The institutional framework score for Massachusetts municipalities is strong.

“Our purpose is to help fund and support the Salvation Army and Mobile Loaves & Fishes, ministries that currently serve the needy and homeless in the Greater New Bedford area. Sufficient finances are necessary to establish or sustain a thriving, enduring, and successful operation. Two special Christian-based ministries in the New Bedford area, Mobile & Fishes fit into this category.

While others choose approaches like walk-a-thons and bike-a-thons, a Serve-A-Thon is a proven fund-raising, fun-raising, friend-raising investment on the part of those who participate. Here is a quick 5 step guide toward understanding how it works:

- 1 Pick a service that you can perform during a specific time period.
- 2 Fill out a Serve-A-Thon pledge sheet with personal info and service place, time, and hours to serve.
- 3 Find Sponsors willing to pledge money in a lump sum or hourly for your service. Have the sponsors fill out a line on the pledge sheet. Payment can be at this time.
- 4 Perform your service during the time promised.

Memorandum

Date: September 8, 2021

To: Select Board

From: Paul H. Foley, Fairhaven Director of Planning & Economic Development

RE: Tree Removals and Initiatives Information for Select Board Packet

Please find attached documents related to the recent street tree removals and initiatives moving forward to protect and manage our street and park trees. Attached are MGL Chapter 87 on Shade Trees (key sections underlined); the Eversource list of trees removed; a 2-page flyer from DCR on Urban and community Forestry and page 4 of the Urban and Community Forestry Grant Application. I believe that MGL 87 was violated with the tree removals of July.

On a positive note the Planning Board will be putting forth a local Tree Bylaw for the Fall Town Meeting to enhance the rules and regulations of MGL Chapter 87, clarify the role and responsibilities of the Tree Warden, establish rules for notification, public input and review required for certain tree work and establish record keeping rules for Tree management.

With your permission I would like to apply to the DCR Urban and Community Forestry Challenge Grant to fund a comprehensive street tree inventory and management plan performed by a professional tree care company. The Inventory would assess our street trees and trees in parks and public plazas by location, species, size, condition, threats and recommended maintenance. The Inventory will inform the Management Plan and identify what issues we have to deal with and the best ways and costs to do so. The Plan should help guide Street Tree management including tree protection, regular maintenance and pruning, pest management, planting (type, location and method) and removal when necessary. The grant requires a 50-50 Match and I would like to apply for $20,000 from the program to be matched by the Town ARPA funds in order to produce the comprehensive Tree Inventory and Management Plan.

I believe it is in the best interest of the Town. The importance of our street trees is expressed in the Master Plan, the Open Space Plan and the Streetscape Guidelines. The Master Plan noted through the public engagement process of the Open Space Plan, that town residents identified the following community assets that they believe make the town unique: the retention of our native stock of plants and trees; unique and valuable natural resources; our History, landscape, and architecture; our conservation partnerships; birds, and diversity of habitat. The Historic Resources section states "a planning process that seeks to preserve neighborhood character while facilitating town-wide growth. This holistic view shifts the focus of preservation from individual buildings to entire communities and the people who live there... and mature trees tell the story of the mill workers who lived there, and the streetscapes that keep property values high". For our historic character, the cooling effects of the tree canopy, land values, habitat and other reasons I ask that you support this effort.

Massachusetts General Law Chapter 87 – Public Shade Trees

Section 1: Public shade trees; definition

- Section 1. All trees within a public way or on the boundaries thereof including trees planted in accordance with the provisions of section 7 shall be public shade trees; and when it appears in any proceeding in which the ownership of or rights in a tree are material to the issue, that, from length of time or otherwise, the boundaries of the highway cannot be made certain by records or monuments, and that for that reason it is doubtful whether the tree is within the highway, it shall be taken to be within the highway and to be public property until the contrary is shown.

Section 2: Powers of tree wardens

- Section 2. The tree warden of a town may appoint and remove deputy tree wardens. He and they shall receive such compensation as the town determines or, in default thereof, as the selectmen allow. He shall have the care and control of all public shade trees, shrubs and growths in the town, except those within a state highway, and those in public parks or open places under the jurisdiction of the park commissioners, and shall have care and control of the latter, if so requested in writing by the park commissioners, and shall enforce all the provisions of law for the preservation of such trees, shrubs and growths. He shall expend all money appropriated for the setting out and maintenance of such trees, shrubs and growths, and no tree shall be planted within a public way without the approval of the tree warden, and in towns until a location therefor has been obtained from the selectmen or road commissioners. He may make regulations for the care and preservation of public shade trees and establish fines and forfeitures of not more than twenty dollars in any one case for violation thereof; which, when posted in one or more public places, and, in towns, when approved by the selectmen, shall have the effect of town by-laws.

Section 3: Cutting of public shade trees; public hearing; damages to fee owner

- Section 3. Except as provided by section five, public shade trees shall not be cut, trimmed or removed, in whole or in part, by any person other than the tree warden or his deputy, even if he be the owner of the fee in the land on which such tree is situated, except upon a permit in writing from said tree warden, nor shall they be cut down or removed by the tree warden or his deputy or other person without a public hearing and said tree warden or his deputy shall cause a notice of the time and place of such hearing thereof, which shall identify the size, type and location of the shade tree or trees to be cut down or removed, to be posted in two or more public places in the town and upon the tree at least seven days before such hearing and published in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or town once in each of two successive weeks, the first publication to be not less than seven days before the day of the hearing or if no such local newspaper exists then in accordance with the provisions of section six of chapter four; provided, however, that when a public hearing must be held under the provisions of this section and under section fifteen C of chapter forty prior to the cutting or removal of a tree, such hearings shall be consolidated into a single public hearing before the tree warden and the planning board, or if there is no planning board, the selectmen of a town or the city council of a city, and notice of such consolidated public hearing shall be given by the tree warden or his deputy as provided herein. Any person injured in his property by the action of the officers in charge of the public shade trees as to the trimming, cutting, removal or retention of any such tree, or as to the amount awarded to him for the same, may recover the damages, if any, which he has sustained, from the town under chapter seventy-nine.

Massachusetts General Law Chapter 87 – Public Shade Trees

Section 4: Cutting down or removing public shade trees; approval of selectmen or mayor

- Section 4. Tree wardens shall not cut down or remove or grant a permit for the cutting down or removal of a public shade tree if, at or before a public hearing as provided in the preceding section, objection in writing is made by one or more persons, unless such cutting or removal or permit to cut or remove is approved by the selectmen or by the mayor.

Section 5: Cutting down, trimming or removing bushes and small trees

- Section 5. Tree wardens and their deputies, but no other person, may, without a hearing, trim, cut down or remove trees, less than one and one half inches in diameter one foot from the ground, and bushes, standing in public ways; and, if ordered by the mayor, selectmen, road commissioners or highway surveyor, shall trim or cut down trees and bushes, if the same shall be deemed to obstruct, endanger, hinder or incommode persons traveling thereon or to obstruct buildings being moved pursuant to the provisions of section eighteen of chapter eighty-five. Nothing contained in this chapter shall prevent the trimming, cutting or removal of any tree which endangers persons traveling on a highway, or the removal of any tree, if so ordered by the proper officers for the purpose of widening the highway and nothing herein contained shall interfere with the suppression of pests declared to be public nuisances by section eleven of chapter one hundred and thirty-two, including the Dutch elm disease.

Section 6: Penalty for violation of Sec. 3, 4 or 5

- Section 6. Violations of any provision of the three preceding sections shall be punished by forfeiture of not more than five hundred dollars to the use of the city or town.

Section 7: Planting of shade trees

- Section 7. Cities and towns may appropriate money for the purpose of acquiring and planting shade trees in public ways. The tree warden, or a private organization acting with the written consent of the tree warden, may plant shade trees acquired with public or private funds in a public way, or if he deems it expedient, upon adjoining land at a distance not exceeding 20 feet from the layout of such public way for the purpose of improving, protecting, shading or ornamenting the same; provided, however, that the written consent of the owner of such adjoining land shall first be obtained.

Section 8: Trees on state highways

- Section 8. The department of highways, in this chapter called the department, shall have the care and control of all trees, shrubs and growths within state highways, and may trim, cut or remove such trees, shrubs and growths, or license the trimming, cutting or removal thereof. No such tree, shrub or other growth shall be trimmed, cut or removed by any person other than an agent or employee of the department, even if he be the owner of the fee in the land on which such tree, shrub or growth is situated, except upon a permit in writing from the department. Any person injured in his property by the action of the department as to the trimming, cutting, removal or retention of any such tree, shrub or other growth, may recover the damages, if any, which he has sustained, from the commonwealth under chapter seventy-nine.

Massachusetts General Law Chapter 87 – Public Shade Trees

Section 9: Signs or marks on shade trees

- Section 9. Whoever affixes to a tree in a public way or place a notice, sign, advertisement or other thing, whether in writing or otherwise, or cuts, paints or marks such tree, except for the purpose of protecting it or the public and under a written permit from the officer having the charge of such trees in a city or from the tree warden in a town, or from the department in the case of a state highway, shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty dollars. Tree wardens shall enforce the provisions of this section; but if a tree warden fails to act in the case of a state highway within thirty days after the receipt by him of a complaint in writing from the department, the department may proceed to enforce this section.

Section 10: Injury to trees on state highways

- Section 10. Whoever without authority trims, cuts down or removes a tree, shrub or growth, within a state highway or maliciously injures, defaces or destroys any such tree, shrub or growth shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars to the use of the commonwealth.

Section 11: Injury to trees of another person

- Section 11. Whoever willfully, maliciously or wantonly cuts, destroys or injures a tree, shrub or growth which is not his own, standing for any useful purpose, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than six months or by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars.

Section 12: Injury to shrubs, trees or fixtures

- Section 12. Whoever wantonly injures, defaces or destroys a shrub, plant or tree, or fixture of ornament or utility, in a public way or place or in any public enclosure, or negligently or willfully suffers an animal driven by or for him or belonging to him to injure, deface or destroy such shrub, plant, tree or fixture, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, and shall in addition thereto be liable to the town or any person for all damages to its or his interest in said shrub, plant, tree or fixture caused by such act. Whoever by any other means negligently or willfully injures, defaces or destroys such a shrub, plant, tree or fixture shall likewise be liable to the town or any person for all damages to its or his interest in said shrub, plant, tree or fixture caused by such act.

Section 13: Powers and duties of tree wardens in cities

- Section 13. The powers and duties conferred and imposed upon tree wardens in towns by this chapter shall be exercised and performed in cities by the officers charged with the care of shade trees within the limits of the highway.

Section 14: Performance of maintenance and tree removal work by utility; submission and approval of vegetation management and hazard tree removal plans; submission of utility tree maintenance standards and specifications

- Section 14. (a) For the purposes of this section, "utility" shall mean a company engaging in the distribution of electricity or owning, operating or controlling distribution facilities; provided, however, that a distribution company shall not include any entity which owns or operates plant or equipment used to produce electricity, steam and chilled water, or an affiliate engaged solely in the provision of such electricity, steam and chilled water, where the electricity produced by such entity or its affiliate is primarily for the benefit of hospitals and nonprofit educational institutions, and where such plant or equipment was in operation before January 1, 1986.

- Section 14(b) A utility may, or at the request of the tree warden shall, submit an annual vegetation management plan describing the maintenance work to be performed in a municipality. The plan shall include, but not be limited to, a map of the circuits where the maintenance work will be performed, the tree maintenance standards that will be followed and any foreseeable variance from those standards. The plan shall comply with local ordinances and regulations. The plan shall be submitted not less than 90 days prior to the date the utility proposes to begin its maintenance work. Upon receipt of the plan, the tree warden, or a designee thereof, shall notify the utility within 60 days, in writing, whether or not the plan has been approved. Upon receipt of written notification that the plan has been approved, or approved with modifications agreed to by both parties, a utility shall be exempt from the requirements of sections 3 and 5 for the work described in the approved plan.
- Section 14 (c) A utility may, or at the request of the tree warden shall, submit an annual hazard tree removal plan describing hazard tree removal work to be performed in a municipality. The plan shall include, but not be limited to, the specific trees that the utility has identified as a hazard and proposes to remove. The plan shall comply with local ordinances and regulations. The plan shall be submitted not less than 90 days prior to the date a utility proposes to begin tree removal. Upon receipt of the plan, the tree warden, or a designee thereof, shall notify the utility within 60 days, in writing, whether or not the plan has been approved. Upon receipt of written notification that the plan has been approved, or approved with modifications agreed to by both parties, the utility shall be exempt from the requirements of sections 3 and 5 for the work described in the approved plan.
- Section 14 (d) If a tree warden fails to notify a utility whether a vegetation management plan or hazard tree removal plan has been approved within 60 days of the warden's receipt of the plan, the utility may request a decision by the selectmen, mayor or chief administrative officer of the municipality.
- Section 14 (e) Notwithstanding approval of a vegetation management plan or hazard tree removal plan, a utility shall notify a tree warden, in writing, not less than 14 days prior to beginning maintenance work or tree removal work in a municipality. If a local ordinance or regulation requires more than 14 days notice, the utility shall comply with such ordinance or regulation. The notice provided shall include the date on which the utility will begin work and the phone number of the person or persons supervising the work in the field.
- Section 14 (f) The utility shall provide to the state forester, or such other person or agency as designated by the secretary of energy and environmental affairs, a copy of any annual vegetation management plan or hazard tree removal plan and a copy of the approval or denial letter from the applicable tree warden. The state forester, or such other person or agency as designated by the secretary of energy and environmental affairs, shall provide the utility an acknowledgment of receipt of such plans and determinations in any manner approved by said secretary.

Massachusetts General Law Chapter 87 – Public Shade Trees

- Section 14 g) The utility shall annually submit to the state forester's office a set of utility tree maintenance standards and specifications and evidence that these standards have been adopted by the utility company. These standards and specifications shall conform with: American National Standard Institute A-300; American National Standard Institute Z-133; and National Electric Safety Code 218 Tree Trimming and OSHA 29 CFR Part 1910 Line Clearance Tree Trimming Operations. The state forester, or such other person or agency as designated by the secretary of energy and environmental affairs, shall make these standards and specifications available to the public on their websites or other accessible locations and shall accept and maintain a publicly accessible record of comments received relative to the standards and specifications and shall transmit the comments to the utilities.

URBAN AND COMMUNITY FORESTRY

What we Do

The Massachusetts Urban and Community Forestry Program assists communities and nonprofit groups in protecting, growing, and managing community trees and forest ecosystems, with the ultimate aim of improving the environment and enhancing livability of all of Massachusetts' communities.

We work with communities of all sizes throughout Massachusetts to provide:

- Grants
- Technical assistance
- Training
- Recognition awards

The program also provides guidance on urban forestry policy issues at the state level.

What is Urban and Community Forestry?

Urban and community forests are the trees, plants, and associated ecosystems anywhere where people are - country roads in rural towns, new developments in the suburbs, or concrete neighborhoods in cities and old mill towns. Our landscape is a continuum from rural forest to city center. We live, work, play, and learn all along this continuum.

Urban and Community Forestry is Not Just about Trees.

Trees and shrubs along streets, in parks, or in cultivated landscapes are the most prominent features of the urban and community forest. But there's more to a forest than just the trees. The other plants, soils, air, and water that are part of the community make up an ecological system that supports wildlife, a clean environment, and a healthy home for humans.

The Health of the Urban Forest Affects the Quality of Our Lives. Would you rather live on a street lined with beautiful trees, or one without green? The health of urban and community forest ecosystems affects the quality of the water we drink, the air we breathe, the stability of our neighborhoods, and our sense of community and individual pride.

Community Forestry Builds Stronger Communities. The most important aspect of Urban and Community Forestry is "community." Planting trees, gardening, teaching young people about nature, creating a land use plan - these activities bring diverse members of our communities together, strengthen our bond to the landscape, and improve the quality of life for the benefit of the whole community. As our urban and community forests grow, so too does our sense of pride, our local economy, and our quality of life.

Massachusetts Urban & Community Forestry Program

URBAN AND COMMUNITY FORESTRY

An excellent urban and community forestry program uses coordinated community resources to efficiently and effectively grow, protect, and manage community trees in a way that maximizes the social, economic, and environmental benefits that the urban and community forest provides to all residents.

The Massachusetts DCR Urban and Community Forestry (UCF) Program and the USDA Forest Service have developed some standards criteria that can help indicate a strong program. In fact, the USDA Forest Service monitors each state's performance based on how many communities are meeting these standards. Massachusetts will receive more federal dollars, as more communities achieve these standards.

What Makes a Strong Urban and Community Forestry program?

- 1. Management Plans: Based on a resource assessment that guides the development of the urban forest resource
- 2. Professional Staffing: Degree in natural resource management, International Society of Arboriculture or Massachusetts Certified Arborist, participation in MTWFA Professional Development Series
- 3. Ordinances/ Policies/ Regulations: UCF program follows and enforces all local or state-wide ordinances that focus on protecting urban forest.
- 4. Advocacy & Advisory Organizations: Actively work with citizen or non-profit organizations such as tree boards and tree commissions that are chartered to advocate for the community's urban forest
- 5. Inter-Agency Coordination: Regularly coordinate with multiple agencies such as the planning board, highway department, conservation commission, and utilities
- 6. Tree City USA: A strong U&CF program will have achieved Tree City USA status.

Developing and Implementing Systematic Urban Forestry Management

Priority may be given to communities that have a qualified tree warden currently in place.

- Tree Inventory and Analysis – We seek to fund systematic inventories of public trees on streets, parks, schools, and other public areas. All tree inventories must include collection of pest and disease information. The inventory must be tied to future routine tree maintenance or future tree planting. The inventory must be conducted by someone experienced in conducting these types of resource assessments, preferably a certified arborist. Volunteers participating in the assessment must be trained and knowledgeable of industry protocols. Priority will be given to inventories that will result in a management plan. The community will provide DCR with a copy of the resulting inventory and analysis.
- Resource Assessment - Resource assessments may include a traditional tree inventory, canopy analysis using satellite or aerial photography, an i-Tree Eco analysis, a GIS analysis, or a survey of available planting sites in a community. The assessment must be conducted by someone experienced in conducting these types of resource assessments, preferably a certified arborist. Volunteers participating in the assessment must be trained and knowledgeable of industry protocols. The community will provide DCR with a copy of the resulting assessment and analysis.
- Management Plans or Street Tree Management / Master Plans - Management plans or master plans guide the strategic management of urban forest resources at the community level. Plans should be based on a professional resource assessment. Such projects could include the development of a street tree management plan, implementation of a tree inventory system, or the inclusion of an urban forestry component in a master plan or open space plan. This funding can also be used to develop plans for storm or disaster response and invasive insect mitigation (e.g., a response plan for emerald ash borer). We encourage communities to avoid “re-inventing wheels,” and we support efforts to make use of existing inventory systems, adapt existing management plans, or add to related management documents. A copy of the inventory and management plan will be provided to DCR. Contact DCR Urban and Community Forestry to discuss other types of plans.

Completing Strategic Community Tree Plantings and “Heritage” Tree Care Projects

• Strategic Tree Plantings -

Grant Funding Request	Eligibility
$1,000 - $7,000	All communities may apply
$7,001 - $20,000	Community must be a Tree City USA
$20,001 - $40,000	Must contact DCR Urban and Community Forestry staff to discuss project and eligibility

We will consider projects that include high-visibility community tree plantings that enhance environmental and aesthetic quality, strengthen community involvement, and follow the principles of planting the right trees in the right places. Priority will be given to strategic planting projects that

- originate from a broad base of community support,
- include a well-planned educational component,
- include a public awareness campaign or event, and/or
- utilize volunteers and community partners.

All planting projects must incorporate the principles of planting the right trees in the right places. Only approved low-growing species may be planted in proximity to utility infrastructure. Applications must include a list and map of specific locations, species, and sizes of trees to be planted, along with a maintenance plan.

Species notes: Due to emerald ash borer, grant funds cannot be used to plant any species of ash (Fraxinus) or fringetree (Chionanthus). In the Asian longhorned beetle regulated area in Worcester County, grant funds cannot be used to plant any trees that are host species for Asian longhorned

Gentlemen and Ms. Powers:

After attending the "Tree Walk" organized by the Tree Warden on September 7th, I took a look at Chapter 87 of the Mass General Laws that describes the powers of the Tree Warden in a municipality. I was particularly interested in Sections 3, 4, 5, 14, which are attached below. I was curious about Mr. Collasius' comment that he had the power to cut down any tree without a proper hearing. Why then in Section 3 are the conditions for tree hearings spelled out in such detail? There are exceptions – Section 5 seems to give permission to remove a tree for highway work. After the outcry before the highway construction on Green Street in 2016, the BPW responded by listening to the townspeople – not just the abutters – and decided to remove only 9 of the 27 trees along the project. We were given plenty of notice and 2 forums to voice our concerns before trees were removed. During the next two phases there were opportunities to advocate for fewer removals and an easement given by the property owner at 79 Green Street spared an iconic oak tree. Other trees were also saved. My point here is that even though the BPW had the power to remove trees, they gave the townspeople plenty of notice and a chance to negotiate to save a few.

The new Tree Warden deserves credit for his enthusiasm for planting trees throughout the town. Many have been lost in recent years and relatively few new ones planted. But we've also seen that many newly planted trees have not survived, so more needs to be done to pick the proper tree, the proper site and to educate residents and park workers to care for them.

The removal of 55 trees since the Tree Warden took of ice is alarming. Early on a few had publicly advertised hearings. However, dozens in recent weeks have been cut down without any notice with the help of Eversource (?) Did they give the town the minimum 90 day notice of their plan specified in Section 14?

As a daily walker along the roads in the center, I saw trees marked with an X one day and then in a day or two they were down. I was particularly shocked to see a tall tree with a full canopy near the intersection of Laurel and Church St cut down. Power lines did travel through the branches but couldn't it have been trimmed instead? Also the tree near the tennis courts at Ft. Phoenix was cut – why?. This tree was spared by the road construction project and well away from power lines. Many trees lost recently were old and in poor shape and probably should have been cut, but maybe some could have been trimmed instead and lasted 5 or more years. A hearing might have delayed the process, but would have given residents more information about which trees were being removed and why. Our old trees are still contributing to the beauty of the landscape and keep us cool. In the 19 years I have lived in Fairhaven, more than a dozen trees have been lost on Laurel Street south of Union Street, due to storm damage, old age, driveway construction, etc. The street is much hotter now in the summer. I'm happy to see 3 new trees planted and hope they survive, but also hope to have the remaining trees as long as possible.

At the Tree Walk Mr. Foley stressed that an inventory needs to be done and a plan needs to be formed to address the maintenance, planting, and any removal of our town trees. We should heed his advice, not rush things and follow the law.

Thank you .

Select Board
Town of Fairhaven

Dear Select Board Members:

In your packet you will find a copy of the initial application to the Mass Historical Commission (MHC) for advancing the Rogers School onto the National Registry of Historic Places.

This is the first phase in the process. The MHC will review and decide if to advance and nominate the Rogers School forward in the process.

The criteria for listing in the National Register are:

- a) association with events that have made a significant contribution to the broad patterns of our history
- b) association with the lives of persons significant in our past
- c) embodiment of distinctive characteristics of a type, period, or method of construction, or that represent a significant and distinguishable entity whose components may lack individual distinction
- d) likelihood of yielding information significant in history or prehistory.

A few examples of the benefits of listing on the National Registry:

- Providing opportunities for preservation incentives, such as:
 - Federal preservation grants for planning and rehabilitation
 - Federal investment tax credits
 - Preservation easements to nonprofit organizations
 - International building code fire and life safety code alternatives
- Possible State tax benefit and grant opportunities within the State of Massachusetts

We look forward to the Select Board's approval in proceeding with the process. Should you require any additional information please feel free to contact me.

Thank you,

INFORMATION AND ASSISTANCE FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS HISTORICAL COMMISSION

What You Need to Know about Listing on the National Register

The National Register is the nation's official list of buildings, districts, sites, structures, and objects important in American history, culture, architecture, or archaeology. The National Register program is administered through the Massachusetts Historical Commission on behalf of the National Park Service.

Nominations are based on comprehensive local inventories of cultural resources. Inventories are generally compiled on a communitywide basis by local historical commissions and record basic information about the historic, architectural, and archaeological significance of individual properties and districts in a community. The completed inventory allows preservation decisions to be made within a consistent context, and identifies properties that are eligible for listing in the National Register.

1. How do I get my property listed in the National Register?

Contact your local historical commission or the MHC to determine whether an inventory form has been prepared for your property or if any additional information is required; ask your local historical commission to forward their recommendation to the MHC regarding your property's eligibility for the National Register. The MHC staff will then evaluate your property to determine whether it meets the criteria for listing in the National Register either individually or as part of a National Register District.

Criteria for Listing

The criteria for listing in the National Register are:

- a) association with events that have made a significant contribution to the broad patterns of our history;
- b) association with the lives of persons significant in our past;
- c) embodiment of distinctive characteristics of a type, period, or method of construction, or that represent a significant and distinguishable entity whose components may lack individual distinction; or
- d) likelihood of yielding information significant in history or prehistory.

Properties must meet at least one of the above criteria to be eligible for listing in the National Register.

The MHC staff evaluation team meets regularly to evaluate properties for the National Register. The object of the evaluation is to determine whether the property meets the criteria for listing. Decisions are based on MHC's knowledge of the resource and its integrity, and an understanding of the significance of the resource within its context. The inventory serves as the basis for all evaluation decisions. When the evaluation team does not have sufficient information to render a decision, additional information may be requested. When National Register districts are being evaluated, MHC staff may make a site visit prior to completing the evaluation.

If your property is eligible, the MHC will send you a nomination form and an instruction manual. You may wish to work with the local historical commission in completing the nomination or seek the assistance of a professional preservation consultant.

MHC staff will review your nomination submission for completeness and may request additional information. When complete, the nomination will be edited and processed by MHC staff, who will present it to the State Review Board of the Massachusetts Historical Commission at one of its quarterly National Register meetings.

The State Review Board will review the nomination and vote whether or not to nominate the property to the National Register of Historic Places. After being voted eligible, the nomination will then be forwarded to the National Park Service in Washington, D.C., for listing in the National Register of Historic Places.

2. What are the benefits of being listed in the National Register?

Recognition: The National Register recognizes the significance of a property to the community, state, and/or nation.

Tax Incentives: National Register listing allows the owners of income-producing properties certain federal tax incentives for substantial rehabilitation according to standards set by the Department of Interior.

Protection: National Register properties are afforded limited protection from adverse effects of federally assisted projects; and, through automatic inclusion in the State Register of Historic Places, limited protection from state actions.

KnowHow #3

Grants: Inclusion in the State Register of Historic Places, which comes automatically with National Register listing, provides eligibility for matching state grants for restoration of properties owned by private nonprofit organizations and municipalities, when such grants are available.

3. Will National Register listing restrict the use of my property?

Listing in the National Register in no way interferes with a property owner's right to alter, manage, or sell the property when using private funds, unless some other regional and/or local ordinance or policy is in effect. If you use state or federal funds to alter your property, or need state or federal permits, the alteration will be reviewed by the MHC staff. Local funding and permitting do not trigger MHC review.

4. What is a National Register District?

Properties may be nominated to the National Register either individually or, if they are located within areas containing other significant properties, as districts. A National Register District may include any number of properties. The benefits and protections afforded by listing are the same.

5. Can my property be listed in the National Register if my community's inventory is not comprehensive?

Yes, in some cases. There are three exceptions to MHC's policy not to consider properties for the National Register in communities without comprehensive inventory.

If you can demonstrate that:

- 1) you, as the owner of income-producing property, are planning to do certified rehabilitation work and need National Register status in order to use the federal investment tax credits;
- 2) your property is in imminent danger of destruction; or
- 3) your property is of demonstrated state or national significance, you may then submit a letter to MHC requesting a National Register evaluation for your property, stating why you want to have the property listed. However, you should note that without comprehensive inventory information, the eligibility of properties is difficult to establish. You will probably need to conduct supplemental inventory work to provide a context for evaluating the significance of your property.

6. If my house is listed in the National Register, are grant monies available for rehabilitation work?

Unfortunately, at present, the MHC does not administer federal or state rehabilitation funds for private homeowners. State grant monies, when available, are awarded only to properties owned by municipalities and non-profit organizations. Federal tax credits are available for substantial rehabilitation of income-producing and commercial properties.

7. Can I object to having my property listed in the National Register?

Yes. Once you receive notice that your property is being considered for listing in the National Register by the State Review Board, you may submit a notarized letter of objection to MHC. If your property is within a proposed National Register district, you will be invited to a public meeting in your community, prior to the State Review Board meeting, at which MHC staff will be available to answer questions about the listing. If your property is within a proposed National Register district, a majority of property owners (more than 50%) must submit notarized objections in order to prevent listing. If a majority of property owners do not object, the nomination may move forward and the properties for which there are objections will remain in the nominated district. If a majority of owners do object, the National Park Service may still formally determine the property(ies) eligible for listing, although actual listing will not occur.

8. Where do I go for assistance in preparing a National Register application?

Your local historical commission, local historical society, and library can provide useful resource material. Professional preservation consultants can assist you or your local historical commission with completion of the National Register nomination form. Also, when funds are available, matching Survey and Planning grants are awarded annually through MHC to fund professional National Register work. For more information, contact the MHC.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF CONSTRUCTION - 1882

On November 11, 1882, the Fairhaven Star, town newspaper of Fairhaven, Massachusetts, carried a succinct yet portentous article. It was shyly tucked away in a column devoted almost exclusively to gossipy speculation and to the personal goings and comings of peripatetic townspeople. The article stated:

"H.H. Rogers Esq. has purchased the tract of land east of the Iron Works and enclosed by (contemplated) Chestnut, Pleasant and Union Streets. It is intimated that some kind of a factory is to be erected on this lot."

Now this bit of news was abrasive to the curiosity of townspersons for they had followed avidly for years - the fortunes of Henry Huttleston Rogers, born in Fairhaven, early to become an enterprising young newspaper carrier, and later, a persuasive store clerk. He had attended the town schools, had courted and married a town girl, and had taken her off to the oil fields of Pennsylvania. There, through astuteness and hard work, he had made a great fortune, and now lived in New York in opulent surroundings, director of a great company – a comparatively young man of forty-two years, who often returned to his home town to visit his mother, attend school re-unions, and greet old friends. So everybody in town watched Henry Rogers, and as they read the Fairhaven Star of November 11, 1882 – they asked themselves: “What is Henry going to do with that land?”

They had to wait only a week. The Fairhaven Star of November 18, 1882 declaimed:

“Very much curiosity has been manifested during the present week regarding the special object of our former townsman, H.H. Rogers Esq. in purchasing the tract of land, containing two acres east of the Iron Works, comprising an entire square and bounded by Centre, Pleasant, Union, and Chestnut Streets. From the interest he has always manifested for the welfare of the home of his childhood – everyone knew it boded good for the town. But we were not prepared for the gratifying announcement which we are now permitted to make public.

“Mr. Rogers proposes to erect upon this square a building of brick and stone creditable to himself and the town, sufficiently large for the accommodation of all the scholars in the village below the high school grade, making a liberal allowance for the future growth of the town; and equip it with all the modern improvements and present it to the town.

“We would like to unearth the old cannon on the corner and fire a grand salute; and put into type the gratitude and admiration our citizens entertain for the noble gift and still nobler giver, were we not repressed and assured that praise would be distasteful to him.”

Then the editor went further in a veritable paeon of triumph:

“Who says Fairhaven is a dead town?” (he wrote) “Will it appear so when the grand army of school children march up Center, Chestnut, Pleasant and Union Streets to that monumental building on Rogers’ Park?”

Thus, the people of Fairhaven, Massachusetts were to learn of their great good fortune in this theatrical announcement of H.H. Rogers’ “first gift” to his hometown. There was undoubtedly much speculation in the fragrant kitchens of the town, among the habitues of Mr. Snow’s drug store and at Beauldry Bros. stable. But whatever may have been the gossip in these havens – the town newspaper, for the three following months, maintained a great reserve and a titillating silence.

At last, on February 17, 1883, the Star vouchsafed almost reluctantly the glad news that Mr. Warren R. Briggs had been employed by Mr. Rogers to prepare plans for the new school. Mr. Briggs was a designer and architect of great distinction and had recently completed the planning of a school building in Bridgeport, Connecticut – which was reputed to be the model schoolhouse in all New England. Mr. Briggs visited the town early in February of 1883 to inspect the ground and surroundings and to make preliminary arrangements for the erection of the school.

In May, 1883, the plans had been completed. Several prominent citizens were invited to examine them, giving them high commendation, and saying that this would indeed be a model school building – and a “handsomer one than the New Bedford High School!” It was moreover stated by the Star that “one of the most celebrated architects of the state has pronounced the plans faultless. However,” continued the editor, “the Donor does not yet consent to publication of the plans – but work on the building will start June 1, 1883.”

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE – 1882-1885

The personnel of the town School Committee at the time of the Rogers School erection consisted of Job C. Tripp, Charles C. Cundall and Albert Collins. They were men of sound business judgment and considerable acumen in educational matters. Dr. C.C. Cundall, physician and surgeon, seems to have been particularly well informed, and upon several occasions wrote extensive articles to be printed in the Star as work on the new school progressed. On December 9, 1882 he asks:

“What is the object of this gift?” He then proceeds to answer his own question and to write literately upon the deficiency of current town education and upon the advantages which the new school would present. Among many happy prospects, he cites the following:

“The great majority of Fairhaven children never enter high school. The benefactor desires that instruction given below high school grade shall be as complete as possible so that stepping from the grammar school into the real and earnest life struggle, the pupil will find himself possessed of an education sufficient for the ordinary duties of the average citizen.

“Brought under one roof, pupils can be more easily watched and graded.

“Teachers in one room can visit others and profit.

“A spirit of healthy emulation and ambition will be engendered by mutual contact of different grades.

“Present expenses for janitors and repairs will be cut.

“A structure of stone and brick needs few repairs.

“A primary department will be retained at Oxford, so distance to a central school will be excessive for no one.”

In ending his comments, Dr. Cundall states:

"Too much respect cannot be entertained for the man who believes that intelligent citizenship is the best foundation for the Fairhaven of the future."

GENERAL SCHOOL CONDITIONS - 1880

In 1880 there were approximately 450 pupils in Fairhaven between 5 and 15 years of age. There was one primary school, one grammar school and seven mixed schools, employing in all, eleven teachers. The mixed schools were ungraded. The school buildings themselves were ill ventilated, nearly all uncomfortably seated, and poorly supplied with blackboards, maps, charts, etc. The teachers, according to Dr. Cundall, were "faithful, conscientious and hard-working, and did the best they could under the circumstances."

To fill teacher vacancies, the town had to rely on graduates of the high school as it was impossible to provide money to remunerate Normal School graduates. Thus, the pupils "suffered while teachers acquired method and experience."

Dr. Cundall further states: "The advent of the Rogers School marks a new era in school history in this town. In addition to its general aesthetic advantages, it makes it possible for the six or seven grades in each of the old buildings to be separated and the scholars of each grade gathered together in a room by themselves to be taught by a teacher who should devote her entire time to work of that grade, instead of dividing it between six or seven grades as formerly."

ERECTION IN PROGRESS - 1883-1885

Thus, amid the rejoicing of the experts and the wonderment of simple, hard-working citizens who could hardly believe in the good fortune of "getting something for nothing," Mr. Woodruff of New York, contractor of the building, arrived in town; and on Friday, August 17, 1883, ground was broken for the new school! Almost simultaneously 60 out-of-town laborers arrived, and the Star lugubriously moaned: "Where they will find accommodations it is hard to tell!"

Mr. Arnold G. Tripp was engaged to supervise the work, and Mr. John Bradford, town citizen, handled the teaming.

It was expected that the building would be completed in eight months, but unfortunate occurrences dogged efforts from the start, and the almost fanatical care exercised in building, extended the months of construction. At the very start of the project, intensely warm weather hindered the first efforts of initial structure. The laborers suffered badly in performing this heavy, exacting work, and many had to quit from exhaustion. As the work progressed, there was great difficulty in securing slaters, and the task of plastering was greatly delayed. There developed trouble about the laying of streets bordering the site of the building. Owners of the land protested that they did not want proposed streets crossing their property.

CORNER STONE CEREMONIES - 1884, May 15th

Yet the work continued, and on Thursday, May 15, 1884, the corner stone ceremonies were held. Mr. Rogers had specifically requested that these should be very simple. His daughter, Anne Engle Rogers, and Job C. Tripp - in the presence of a large company, among whom were the Building Committee and members of the School Board - took up positions at the northeast corner of the building. Mr. Tripp enumerated the contents of a box which was to be deposited in the stone. He then passed the box to Miss Rogers, and she placed it in the receptacle, and with trowel and hammer, completed the sealing. On the northern face of the stone the date was chiseled -
-May 15, 1884-

Contents of the box were as follows:

Condensed history of the town, listing of churches, schools, merchant and business industries; copy of the Fairhaven Star; copies of the New Bedford Evening Standard and the Daily Mercury; specimen of the coin of the day; postage stamps in use, and papers of special interest to the Rogers family.

STRENGTH OF BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

The work of construction now went forward with increased impetus. No effort or money was spared to make the building aesthetically attractive, healthful, convenient, and thorough in construction. The brick walls were of great solidity, and numerous brick partitions, arches and iron beams attested to the concern of Mr. Rogers that youngsters attending his school should know the safety of solid and expert construction.

The under-floors were laid diagonally, and the cement work of the cellar was poured nearly a foot in thickness. A layer of heavy paper was inserted between the two floors of each room to absorb moisture and deaden sound. The walls received two coats of plaster and were treated with a very hard finish. The blackboards, maneuvered into place, were of solid chemical state, and a large iron tank in the attic supplied water for the boilers.

A November 22, 1884 issue of the Star signaled near completion of the building with the announcement that a fancy iron railing was being placed across the archway at the level of the bell deck, and the ridge board had been sealed in copper.

By this time, the school had become a transatlantic celebrity! The Star confided on September 20, 1884 that:

"A distinguished sanitary engineer (name excluded) and editor of New York says that at the international sanitary exposition in London, he saw plans of Rogers School of Fairhaven occupying a conspicuous place in exhibits, and these were unquestionably the finest plans presented at the exposition."

DEED OF CONVEYANCE

At a special town meeting in Fairhaven held on July 7, 1885, Daniel W. Deane, Chairman of the Selectmen, read the following letter from Mr. Rogers:

Gentlemen:

Prompted by a desire to promote the education of the youth of my native town, and to give an enduring token of my interest in the welfare of its inhabitants, I propose to donate to the town of Fairhaven the lot of land on which I have caused to be erected a building suitable in size, arrangements and equipments for the purposes of a school. You will confer upon me a favor by taking such action as may be necessary to inform the town of my purposes, and to enable me to transfer, by proper deed of conveyance, the land, buildings, and improvements, which I ask it to accept.

Yours truly,

H.H. Rogers.

The deed of conveyance was then read. This was signed by Henry H. Rogers and Abbie P. Rogers, and witnessed by Anne E. Rogers and Charles Edgar Mills, Commissioner for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The Hon. Weston Howland offered a motion for grateful acceptance, and the town meeting members accepted "the first gift" with suitable resolutions of thanks - enumerated and adopted. It was then voted that the school be called the "Rogers School."

The deed of conveyance, a typical legal document, had one condition - perhaps a curious one for the 19th century, but a particularly significant one to those who read of it in the late 20th. This condition states:

"- And this conveyance is made upon the condition that said school shall be for the education of the children of Fairhaven, without restriction on account of sectarian creed or religious belief; and shall never be maintained as a school separately for Protestant or Catholic children, but both shall enjoy in common its privileges, as they are now enjoyed in the public schools of Fairhaven."

THE DEDICATION - 1885, SEPTEMBER 3RD

So it happened, after years of planning on the part of inspired and professional men – after years of conscientious, day-by-day effort by skilled and unskilled, who labored physically, and made the building grow – after years of a sustained generosity on the part of a donor faithful to a dream – after years of rejoicing by town parents in a new opportunity opening for their young ones – after all this human hope and endeavor – the splendid “first gift” was finished and deemed ready for formal dedication.

The exercises took place on September 3, 1885 in the First Congregational Church. The spacious audience room was completely occupied. There were addresses by Daniel W. Deane, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen; Professor Franklin B. Dexter of Yale College; the Rev. Henry J. Fox, Pastor of M.E. Church; and Mr. Herbert Jenney of Cincinnati, Ohio. Then there was a warm articulation of his purposes by Mr. Rogers himself. There was a musical program arranged and trained by the doughty Dr. Cundall, who never once seems to have wavered in enthusiasm for the “great project,” and, of course, there were the school children who sang with much gusto.

A printed booklet describing dedication proceedings is available in town records. Well worth reading, it contains every word spoken on that glad occasion. As one considers these dedication speeches today, one is struck by the sincerity of emotion evoked by the occasion; by the sure grasp of fundamental educational policies and procedures; and by an open-minded suggestiveness of future educational trends. It must be remembered that this was a period of marked change in educational thinking and when developing philosophies in the art of teaching were confounding the thinking of the experts. Yet, much that was said by speakers that day regarding learning was sensitive and far-sighted. Much that was suggested – has come to pass.

OCCUPATION!

That faithful raconteur, Dr. Cundall, wrote in a later issue of the Star:

“On Monday morning, Sept. 7, 1885 – boys and girls of the town bade adieu to their old discarded school buildings on Green, Spring, Privilege and Centre Streets – and went to the brand new Rogers!”

On Saturday, September 5th, the Star printed directives for the first day of school – Monday, September 7th. They follow:

“The Fall Term of the Public Schools will commence, Monday, September 7th, with the following corps of teachers:

High School

Mr. Z.W. Kemp, Principal; Miss Annie E. Fairchild, Assistant

Thus, the far-flung school units were brought together, and the "first gift" was in business!

MISADVENTURE

Gradually, the outmoded and empty old school houses, largely of wooden frame construction, were sold for homes, stores or barns. Some were demolished and used for builders' spare parts or for firewood.

The town children had settled happily into their grand new quarters, when, on December 19, 1885, three months after its opening, the Rogers School was struck by lightning! Witnesses stated that a ball of fire, six inches in diameter, struck the ornamental projection of the building on the east side of the tower. Little damage was sustained in the chipping off of two small pieces of freestone.

However, the ill fortune that had dogged the school in the early days of construction persisted. On March 29th, 1890, the Star announced sadly that "H.H. Rogers is not satisfied with the appearance of the outer brick walls of Rogers School and proposes to have them removed and replaced!" The faulty brick was gradually becoming discolored and, in some instances, turning white!

On May 10, 1890 the Star announced: "The schooner A.E. Rudolph arrived with 120,000 pressed bricks for wall replacement. Ten men are engaged in discharging the vessel."

Thus, in May, 1890, the slow and tedious task of replacing the faulty brick began. Twelve or fourteen men were engaged as all the old brick had gradually to be removed and new inserted. First class workmen were mandatory since great pains had to be taken to ensure a perfect finish, and breaking or chipping had to be avoided at all costs. To protect the new brick, straw was placed between every course in the pile.

At least fifty thousand fine pressed bricks of a superior quality were to be used at a cost of $50 a thousand! The new bricks were very even in size and a rich dark red in color.

At first it was expected this would be a five-month job, but the work went slowly because of many problems. It was necessary to make new plans for window trimmings and arches, and in the midst of infinite difficulties, "Six masons employed on the job quit work because of trouble with the boss!"

An anxious Star assured its readers that they need fear no weakening of the building walls because of the brick exchange. Indeed, they were assured, "The removal of the old brick and putting in of new will strengthen the building as the new bricks are harder."

In the middle of this confusion, the Selectmen decided to place upon the building a tablet in terra cotta with the inscription
– Rogers School –

The matter was placed in the hands of the already harassed contractor in charge of repairs, and he was instructed to make a suitable design. At last, in November, the work was completed. The plaque was secured to the wall over the front doors, and a wreath was placed around the clock face. The original splendor of the "first gift" was restored.

It might well be claimed that the erection of the Rogers School provided the means and the incentive for adoption of modern educational trends in the town of Fairhaven. Within the walls of the new school, there was space and stimulus for both teacher and pupil to reach and create. Good teaching and good learning resulted. Moreover, completion of this fine building seemed to evoke in the citizenry a new responsibility for the education of their children, for when, in 1896, the town started to grow inordinately, there was ready sentiment for the erection of a new school in Oxford. That area had become particularly populous, and the children there were still being taught in a little stone schoolhouse on North Street. It was a picturesque little place known as School No. 11, and for sixty-six years it had been in constant use. Now it was deemed inappropriate for school purposes. A town meeting on March 7, 1896 voted $15,000 for a new school, and this new building, the Oxford School, was dedicated on January 8, 1897.

When Mr. Rogers started the Unitarian Memorial Church in 1902, he presented the old Unitarian Church building to the town for school use. This was first designated as the Rogers School Annex, and later as the Washington Street School.

In 1917 the Job C. Tripp School was begun and the Edmund Anthony Jr. School was built in 1921. In 1925 the East Fairhaven School opened its doors, and Nasketucket had its own school again.

It is not inappropriate to suggest, then, that Mr. Rogers' "first gift" served Fairhaven citizens as catalyst in development of a healthy respect for education and a deep interest in the welfare of their children.

EPILOGUE

Under the direction of astute superintendents, principals and teachers – the educational programs of the Rogers School, over the years, have been notable for solid and reasonable aspiration. There has always been emphasis upon sound scholarship and learning through individual approach.

The sturdily constructed building itself – to which an addition was added in 1958 – has served well. Students who have attended have used its facilities with pride and care. Consequently, it is in singularly good condition although it is approaching the end of its first century. The rooms are light and airy. There is a feeling of space, flexibility and freedom as a teacher stands before her class or walks the aisles. Here, the pressing compactness of many of the modern schools does not confine physically or mentally. Teachers still say they "like to teach in the Rogers School."

There have been excellent extra-curricular ventures here. School clubs and athletic teams have been stimulating; school newspapers have augmented the English programs. Colorful fairs have brightened the school grounds, and some particularly effective dramatic offerings and pageants have drawn the citizenry in large numbers to the green lawns. In 1921 an outstanding historical pageant in seven episodes was presented; in 1934, in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the corner stone laying, a pageant written by the teachers of the school was prepared. The 75th anniversary was celebrated in a pageant that depicted the special town meeting acceptance of the deed of conveyance and the dedication exercises held in the Congregational Church in 1885.

Moreover, parents of Rogers School students have, over the years, been consistently generous in support of the school policies, programs and aims. They have brought wisdom to the efforts of the faculty and understanding to the needs of the students.

The following paragraphs are taken from an address delivered by the Rev. Henry J. Fox at the dedication ceremonies for the Rogers School on September 3rd, 1885.

"He might (Mr. Rogers) have chosen to invest his $100,000 in pictures, in gems, in bronzes, in choice engravings and rare books, and have packed them away in his own house for the delight of his own household. He might have built a memorial for some college or some theological school. He might have given to some great city an incomparable gallery of art. He might have patronized science and endowed a great national observatory. He might have turned his munificence into the various channels which the needs of higher education are ever keeping so imploringly open. He might, like Yale, Vassar, Johns Hopkins, Swain and Cornell, have built a college or endowed professors' chairs. I say he might have done any of these things, and blessed are the men who do them! But if he had allowed his beneficence to run in these channels, he would only have benefited some special class or classes and have done what men of less foresight will do to the end of time. He chose, and I think with a profound wisdom, to do something deeper, broader. In giving a school to the common people he has gone down to the root of things.

"He who furnishes the first rounds of the ladders by which alone men may attain to usefulness and honor, is to my mind, a much greater benefactor than he who puts in the higher rounds. For the higher rounds, a man standing securely on the lower ones may put in for himself, or find hundreds ready to put them in for him. It is the common school that makes the good citizen, that maintains public order, and gives stability to our institutions."

These words of Dr. Fox are more significant to us today as we read them than they could possibly have been at the time they were delivered on the dedicatory platform. For those who attended the exercises in 1885 could never have dreamed of the future beneficence of Mr. Rogers to his home town. They could not foresee a group of splendid buildings he was to raise which have enriched the life of every citizen in the town. They could not know of the paving of streets; the far-sighted allocation of wells for pure water; the planning of a lovely park; the individual financial grants to relatives and family friends who were native to this town. None of these gifts had been proffered in 1885. They were to come over the next few years in an extraordinary outpouring of love and respect for his town.

Yet the initial fruits of this great good will had ripened as the Rogers School was dedicated – and his townspeople, with joy, accepted from Henry H. Rogers – his “first great gift.”

From Original FAI.30

In August 1883 ground was broken for this public school, which was a gift to the town from Henry Huttleston Rogers. It was dedicated September 3, 1885. Its architect was Warren R. Briggs of Bridgeport Connecticut, whose school in that place was considered "the model school house in all New England." Aiding Briggs in the construction of the school were a Mr. Woodruff of New York, contractor; Arnold G. Tripp, a Fairhaven man, supervisor of work; and John Bradford of Fairhaven, teamster. The building has brick arches and partition walls, with iron beams. An iron tank in the attic supplied the water boiler. The dedicatory address mentioned a construction cost of $100,000. In 1890, Rogers had the school re-faced because of spalling brick. The plaque, and the terra cotta wreath around the clockface, were added at the same time.

Dear Ms. Simon,

On behalf of the Fairhaven Select Board, I am writing in support of the Rogers Reuse Committee's plan to add the former Rogers School in Fairhaven to the National Historical Register.

This landmark building is located in the center of town and is a former elementary school building and was the first gift of oil tycoon Henry H. Rogers to the Town of Fairhaven. Built at a time when greater interest in education was sweeping the country, the school, designed by architect Warren Briggs, incorporated the best features in schoolhouse design, including a spacious auditorium on the third floor. Originally the building had living quarters for the custodian, assuring security and the uninterrupted operation of the furnace on cold winter nights. When the building's exterior brick began to discolor just five years after the school's construction, Rogers had all the brick removed and replaced. Fairhaven did not have electric service when the school was built. It was wired for lights in 1890. The building was used as an elementary school for 128 years, until June 2013.

This building is an important part of the neighborhood and the preservation of this historical community asset will ensure that future generations will be able to enjoy its beauty.

By placing the Rogers School on the National Historical Register, it will open up the possibilities for grants to make improvements to the building for a future use.

This is a worthy project that I hope you will support.

Sincerely,

Whereas, Henry W. Rogers of New York City, formerly our fellow townsman, prompted by a desire ^{to} promote the education of the youth of his native town; and to give an enduring token of his interest in the welfare of its inhabitants, has donated to our town the lot of land on which he has caused to be erected a building suitable for the purposes of a school:

Resolved, that we, the Inhabitants of the Town of Fairhaven, in accepting this most useful and beautiful gift, recognize the donor's deep and abiding interest in our welfare; and feel the most profound admiration for the thoughtful and generous spirit in which it was conceived and executed.

Resolved, that we believe the land and building are admirably and perfectly adapted to the purposes for which they are intended; and that the building in its outward simplicity and beauty, as well as in its interior finish and arrangement, is a model of graceful and substantial architecture and convenience, of which our town will always be justly proud.

Resolved, that we believe the children of our town, from time to time gathered within its walls, will reap inestimable benefit from its spacious accommodations; its well chosen and complete equipment; and its thorough and scientific sanitary regulations.

Mr. Robert Espindola, Chairman

August 26, 2021

Dear members of the board,

I would like to inform you of a donation made to our department by Bask marijuana dispensary in support of our newly created canine position within the Fairhaven Police Department. Upon hearing of our upcoming endeavor from Captain Botelho, Bask generously donated $7,500.00 to help us launch our canine program.

One of the roles our canine will be engaged in is that of the detection of illicit drugs and narcotics. One of the goals of Bask is to provide patients with all-natural alternatives to opiate based medications for pain management in order to avoid addiction to dangerous drugs. Bask strongly believes this philosophy dovetails appropriately with our goal of adding an additional tool to our resources to combat illicit drugs in our community.

Their investment in our community, and in this particular endeavor, is greatly appreciated by the Fairhaven Police Department, and we thank them for this much needed assistance. I thought it most appropriate to make you aware of Bask's generosity, and commitment to the Town of Fairhaven.

Respectfully,

Michael J. Myers

Dear Select Board,

The Fairhaven Village Militia and the Wareham Minutemen and Militia Companies will present a two-day historical encampment at Fort Phoenix. Starting on Saturday September 25 from 9:00 a.m. to sunset, and Sunday, September 26, 2021 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

At sunset on Saturday, about 6:45 p.m. the fort's five large cannons will be fired. If you have never had the opportunity to see the cannons fired, it is spectacular.

Come talk to period costumed men and women about the fort's history and life in the 1770s. See military drilling, flintlock musket and cannon firing demonstrations and see period activities such as tin smithing, leather working, carpentry, sewing, fire starting, and more.

Sincerely,

Wayne V. Oliveira
